The Way We Resonate

At Akuart, we live and breathe for better room acoustics because we understand how it can improve your everyday life. Our approach to designing acoustic solutions, in many ways, takes on a “silent” role. It sounds like a paradox, but the hallmark of a perfect acoustic environment is that most people don’t even realise it. They simply experience a pleasant feeling of well-being. You never complain about something that works. Luckily for us, we are just as passionate about great product design and creating visual meaning as we are about creating extraordinary acoustics. This makes it possible for us to make some noise even though our main purpose is to be sonically invisible.

Enjoy the silence!

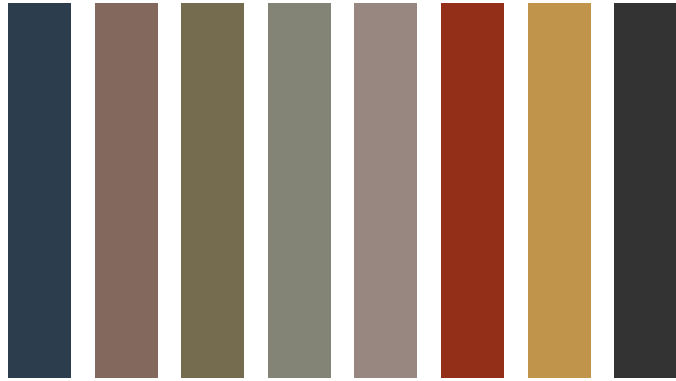

Designing with Colours & Patterns

At Akuart, we know that every interior project is different and often requires bespoke solutions. That is why we created the Transformer 2.0 Collection: an exclusively curated colour palette ready to go on our acoustic panels. Deepening from subtle neutrals to dark inky hues, our collection is carefully selected to ensure that each and every colour can sit effortlessly alone or as part of a scheme. The pattern add a subtle touch of sophistication, providing a tactile expression without compromising the many advantages of our changeable, washable, and disinfectable canvas, made from 100% recycled polyester.
